D. Telecommunications Media;

1. The department's Communications Dispatch Center is a licensed radio station through the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). It is a 24/7 operation, with a supervisor and six dispatchers, and has the capability to transmit over twenty-one (21) different radio frequencies. There are approximately ten (10) telephone lines that come into dispatch, including 301-270

1100 (to report a crime in progress within the City limits and/or to request non-emergency calls for service) and 301-891-7102 (for other informational/voice mail calls).

2. Tip411 Anonymous Text Program: The department initiated tip411, an internet-based tool that enables the public to text message an anonymous tip to the police and authorized departmental personnel to respond back by text message to the tipster, thereby creating a two-way anonymous “chat.” Anyone with a cell phone can now send an anonymous tip to the TPPD by typing in the number 847411 and typing the word TPPD TIP before the message. A tip also can be sent using the TPPD’s Facebook page via a link “submit a tip” in the left-hand column. The tip line is intended to be used for non-emergency tips and is not an alternative to calling 911. Dispatchers are the departmental personnel authorized to access, review, respond to and manage all inbound messages. Once a tip is sent to the email site, they will follow the instructions provided by the Dispatch Supervisor to access the account and forward any information to the on-duty supervisor or as a dispatch call. The on-duty supervisor will instruct the dispatcher whether it needs to be handled immediately or forwarded to the Criminal Investigations Section or other department for follow-up. This cancels Special Order 2009-006, 411 TIPS.

3. The department’s main fax machine, 301-270-1230, enables personnel to transmit and receive copies of documents externally.

06. Responsibilities. Notwithstanding the myriad of communication media provided by the department, effective communication is an individual responsibility also. All department personnel will use the communication media properly and efficiently.
