Council Considers Budget for 2006, Seeks Citizen Input

The Council will discuss the budget in detail throughout May and early June; it has scheduled extra meetings for budget work sessions. Public testimony is welcome during these meetings, and formal public hearings on the budget are scheduled for May 9 and Tuesday, May 31. The Council plans to formally adopt a budget June 13; the 2006 fiscal year begins July 1.

Because Takoma Park has been participating in the local real estate boom, the assessed value of real property in the City has gone up 10.6 percent in the past year—roughly from $1.04 billion to $1.15 billion. If the City leaves the tax rate unchanged, property tax revenues will also increase by 10.6 percent.

The proposed budget, however, calls for a property tax rate cut of 1.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. That would still boost City revenues from real property taxes, though not by as much as if the rate were left unchanged. A public hearing on property tax rates is scheduled for May 9.

If readers closely examine the budget charts on pages 6 and 7, they may notice something they haven’t seen before: In previous years, the budget charts were presented so that revenues and expenditures came out exactly equal. In this year’s charts that’s no longer true. But City Manager Barbara Matthews, who joined Takoma Park last July, explained, “In changing the format, I am trying to be more ‘full disclosure’ about how we spend taxpayer money. In reality, there’s been no change in practice” (i.e., the City has pulled money from the reserve for years to balance the budget).

Other than the unusual capital outlays and bond issue mentioned above, the City budget follows predictable patterns. It is recommended that most departments receive small percentage increases over their FY05 budget amounts. As usual, salaries and benefits are trending upward, though the level of full-time equivalent staff should be unchanged. The proposed budget anticipates salary increases of just over $200,000 next year compared to this year. Health insurance costs are expected to increase by 10.6 percent.

County Shortchanges City By Millions, Taskforce Says

Rebates paid to Takoma Park by Montgomery County in compensation for services provided by the City that would otherwise be provided by the county are at least $1.1 million and perhaps up to $4.8 million less a year than they should be, according to the final report submitted to the Takoma Park City Council April 25 by the Residents’ Committee on Tax and Service Duplication Issues (TASDI). The report, which calls for more and better use of state law to ensure that county services provided in lieu of the county’s return to the city of taxes the county received from city residents for duplicated services, either as a rebate paid to the city or as a tax differential that lowers the county tax rate for the city’s taxpayers, Montgomery County has chosen the rebate method.

“In FY05 Montgomery County rebated to the City of Takoma Park a total of $3 million for police, road maintenance and park maintenance services that the City provided in lieu of the county,” the committee concluded in its report, adding that “the county’s rebate to the City was significantly less than the City’s actual costs for delivering these and other duplicative services, and far less than the amount the county would likely spend if the City were to provide these services.”

The Residents’ Committee consisted of 21 individuals appointed by City Council members and the mayor in mid-October 2004 to examine the costs of services provided by the City that duplicate those provided elsewhere by the county and are funded through both county and City taxes. City residents Bruce Moyer and Dan Robinson served as co-chairs. The committee was charged, among other things, with recommending actions the City could take to obtain a fairer tax.

Further information is available by contacting the City Clerk Office at 301-891-7267.
Correction: How to Get Property Tax Credit Forms

An article about property tax rebates in the April Newsletter incorrectly stated that application forms are available at the City Treasurer’s office. In fact, 2005 Tax Credit Applications (for Homeowners and Renters) are available through the State of Maryland. They may be downloaded from the state Web site at: http://www.dat.state.md.us/sdatweb/taxcredits.html., or residents may call 1-800-944-7403 to request a form. These applications are due on Sept. 1 of each year. The City receives information from the state and will issue rebate checks based on that information.

Defining A City: ‘Smart Lights’

The City Council is currently spending a fair amount of time and effort discussing a series of signs that will dot our landscape. What the signs will say and how they will look is the subject of much debate because, it is felt, they will help project the character of our city.

I do not know who to thank for the most agreeable message I get from the City almost every day. That “Have a nice day” greeting comes in the form of “smart lights.” The best, to my personal experience, is the traffic signal at the intersection of Flower Ave. and Carroll Ave. It goes from east, to west, to north and south. It recognizes when I pull up and, if there is no other traffic, it will change in short order to let me proceed about my business. I am not required to waste time while naught but the wind breezes across my path. What a delight!

That dangling bit of hardware says volumes to me. Principally it proclaims that my convenience and that of the thousands of motorists who pass by each day is of more value than saving a few dollars. It says that, rather than simply getting the job done, someone took the time to be thoughtful and considerate.

I appreciate the present efforts of the Council but whatever determination it finally makes, I am predisposed to think the result will not hold a candle to the “smart lights.”

Farmers Market Temporarily On Willow Ave.

The Takoma Park Farmers Market has been temporarily relocated, starting April 10, to allow for construction of an improved streetscape on Laurel Ave. The market will be located for the next few weeks on Willow Ave., off Carroll, and in the adjoining Bank of America parking lot. The move was made with the cooperation of the Farmers Market and neighborhood residents. Thanks also to the Bank of America for allowing the use of its parking lot at no charge.

During the relocation, cars will not be permitted to enter the block of Willow between Tulip and Carroll, unless the owners live on that block, or are leaving the parking lot behind Mark’s Kitchen. That parking lot will still be available for use. The Market will return to its Laurel Ave. location once construction has been completed.

Is a Toxic Rail Disaster Waiting to Happen?

The City Council April 4 passed a resolution expressing concern about “the potential devastating regional impacts of a rail disaster involving toxic chemicals,” and calling on area governments “to restrict the transport of deadly materials in our region.”

The resolution tackles an extraordinarily complex issue that has been recently contested in court. CSX Railroad, after the D.C. government passed an ordinance restricting the rail transport of hazardous waste through the District, applied to the U.S. government for a small municipality like Takoma Park to take on CSX — and possibly the U.S. government as well — might turn into an expensive court battle and should be avoided.

The resolution calls for a regional solution to the problem, commends the D.C. Council for its bold action and urges the federal government to cooperate in resolving the issue. Councilmember Joy Austin-Lane (Ward 1), who led the effort to pass a binding law, says the City can still play an active role on the issue. For example, she told the Newsletter, “CSX says it has a security plan that has been submitted to the federal government, but no one has seen it.” Austin-Lane would like the City to request to see that plan. In addition, she suggested that, with CSX trying to overturn the D.C. law in the courts, Takoma Park could file an amicus brief in support of the District government. — Bob Guldin

City of Takoma Park Notice of a Proposed Real Property Tax Increase

The Council of the City of Takoma Park, Maryland proposes to increase real property taxes.

1. For the tax year beginning July 1, 2005, the estimated real property assessable base will increase by 10.6% from $1,040,368,310 to $1,150,381,811.

2. If the City of Takoma Park maintains the current tax rate of $0.660 per $100 of assessment, real property tax revenues will increase by 10.6% resulting in $726,089 of new real property tax revenues.

3. In order to fully offset the effect of increasing assessments, the real property tax rate should be reduced to $0.597, the constant yield tax rate.

4. The City is considering not reducing its real property tax rate enough to fully offset increasing assessments. The City proposes to adopt a real property tax rate of $0.645 per $100 of assessment. This tax rate is 8% higher than the constant yield tax rate and will generate $552,184 in additional property tax revenues.

A general public meeting on the proposed tax rate increase will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, May 9, 2005, in the Council Chambers of the Municipal Building at 7500 Maple Avenue, Takoma Park, Maryland.

The hearing is open to the public, and public testimony is encouraged.

Persons with questions regarding this hearing may call Jessie Carpenter, Acting City Clerk, at 301-891-7267 for further information.

Montgomery College Offers Varied Summer Classes for Kids

Montgomery College will offer a variety of summer classes and fun programs, including many at the nearby Takoma Park campus in North Takoma and South Silver Spring. Some of the possibilities are:

- FIT Summer Camp - a series of four one-week, full-day sports and academic camps for students who are ages 6-13.
- Summer Science Camp for Girls - a two-week science program that allows girls, grades 6-8, to learn about scientific fields, interact with female scientists and conduct hands-on science experiments.
- Young Scientists’ Academy - a series of 3-week, full day programs that immerses students, ages 6-15, in the sciences and teaches them to investigate and solve problems. Students do science experiments and learn about biological research and careers in the health sciences.
- Mathematics Enrichment Program - a series of one-week mathematics courses ranging from Pre-Algebra to Calculus and SAT Prep (Math) for students, ages 9-17.
- Smithsonian Museum Tours - a series of 3-week two-week programs that immerses students, ages 6-15, in the sciences and teaches them to investigate and solve problems. Students do science experiments and learn about biological research and careers in the health sciences.
- Technology Camp - a series of two-week, full-day and half-day computer programs that educates students, grades 6-9, about computer programming or Web design. Some classes are for girls only.

duplication payment from Montgomery County, and to decrease the level of tax duplication paid by City property owners. Moyer and Robinson presented the report to the City Council April 25, and several councilmembers said emphatically how impressed they were with the document and the work and research that went into it. Thanks for the taskforce efforts, all councilmembers also encouraged them to stay involved in what is likely to be a difficult and protracted negotiation with the county to increase the City’s tax rate.

The committee conducted 13 meetings between November 11, 2004 and April 19, 2005. It divided into subcommittees to examine each major portion of the City’s budget, with special emphasis on programs for which the City receives county rebates. The City’s fiscal year 2005 rebates, including rebates, total approximately $14 million. According to the committee’s calculations, a more accurate rebate would be at least $4.1 million, and possibly as high as $7.8 million, substantially more than the approximate $3 million the City received from the county in fiscal 2005.

“Part of the gap exists because the county does not take into account its own administrative and capital costs,” the report said. “The committee found additional methodological flaws in the county’s rebate formulas that also resulted in an underpayment. The committee recommends that the City Council negotiate with the county to correct these defects and calculate a rebate that delivers a 100% accurate rebate relief from double taxation.”

The committee concluded the ultimate flaw in the system was attributable to the one-sided nature of the negotiations about what an appropriate rebate should be. The county has final say in such determinations and the City has no appeal. “At the same time the committee recommends that the Council investigate a change in the rebate system to establish third-party arbitration in the case of stalemated negotiations, reforming the current situation where the county is the ultimate authority,” the report said.

The committee also concluded that the current arrangement for the county’s “pass-back” to the City of income tax payments by Takoma Park residents, currently set at 17 percent, is inadequate and unfair to municipalities that provide high service levels and serve relatively less affluent populations. “The committee recommends that the City Council pursue reform of the current income tax pass-back framework to mitigate these inequities,” the report said.

“This could involve a change in the pass-back formula, realigning the pass-back to reflect the relationship between the City’s tax rate and the countywide property tax rate, or an increase in the percentage underlying the pass-back itself.”

Committee chair Moyer said the Residents’ Committee had invested “a tremendous amount of work” in the project, and that its findings “will provide a useful guide to the City Council as it makes its budget determinations in the future. This is a very complex issue, and to the best of our knowledge, this is the most in-depth analysis of how the system works that is available.”

Co-chair Dan Robinson echoed Moyer’s praise of the committee, pointing out that its members were rank and file citizens taking on a really tough, time-consuming job with no compensation. This report should be required reading for all residents of Takoma who are concerned about our fiscal situation, and the future of our city.”

The report is available on the City’s Web site, cityoftakomapark.org.

TALKING TRASH

Some Collection Reminders From the Public Works Sanitation Team

1. Place trash and recycling containers at the curb the evening before your scheduled collection. Make sure they are not concealed by vehicles or other large objects.
2. Park far enough from intersections to allow our collection vehicles to pass safely and easily.
3. Do not place yard waste in plastic bags. Use paper bags or other stiff sided containers for your yard waste like branches, brush, sticks and leaves.
4. The City only collects branches that are less than 4 feet in length and 3 inches in diameter.
5. Your recycling bin is broken or missing, visit the public works administration office for a free replacement.
6. The City sells $64 gallon trash toters, large trash containers with an attached lid, handle and 2 wheels. The cost is $40.30 per container.
7. Please contact the Public Works Department with any questions, 301-891-7633.

expected to rise 11 percent, or $95,599. And workers’ compensation insurance is expected to increase by 20 percent, or $72,000.

On the other hand, based on a reasonably favorable economic scenario, some revenue sources for the City should also go up in FY06: highway user revenues by 20 percent, or $72,000, income tax revenues by $90,000 and tax duplication payments from the county by $381,413.

The City is also selling two unneeded properties on Piney Branch Road near Flower Ave., and should receive at least $400,000 for those. These funds will be designated to help pay for Community Center construction, as will a $50,000 grant recently voted by the Maryland state legislature (see page 12). The City’s two recent bond issuances – for street improvements and the Community Center – also have attendant costs. The full year of debt service for the street improvement will cost almost $373,000. While the exact debt service cost of the Community Center bond was not known at press time, it was projected to be $205,000. The bond transaction is expected to close on May 26, and the funds should be received in FY05 – before June 30.

Matthews told the Council that if one looks at the broadest budget overview – including not only the normal operating budget but also the Community Center and special accounts like the stormwater fund – the City’s total expenditure for FY06 is expected to be $20.1 million, while revenues are $18.2 million. That leaves a gap of $1.9 million, which is covered by the sale of City-owned real property ($400,000) and drawing on City reserve funds ($1.5 million), of which $1.0 million comes from the street loan proceeds received in FY05.

Statewide Library Card...Why Not Us?

By Ellen Arnold-Robbins
Library Director

During National Library Week in April, Maryland public libraries launched a special statewide public library card as part of a marketing initiative to build awareness of existing statewide public library services among Maryland residents. This statewide public library card can be used to register with any county public library system in the state. This is indeed an exciting undertaking, as no other state has the participation of all of its public library systems in such a cooperative effort.

Takoma Park residents can, of course, avail themselves of the full range of conveniences that come with the new state card, including the ability to use it to borrow from any of Maryland’s 174 branches and Baltimore’s Enoch Pratt Free Library. They only need to go to their nearest county branch to get one. At the same time, the reasons why Takoma Park’s City library is not part of this initiative need to be clearly understood.

To begin with, Takoma Park is not recognized as a public library under state law, because it is municipally run, and not under county jurisdiction. Because the statewide card is supported by the State Library, it is doubtful that Takoma Park would be in any way eligible to participate.

More important to residents is the fact that they would have much to lose and very little to gain by this Library’s participation. We charge D.C. residents and Maryland residents living outside Montgomery County a non-resident fee to borrow from the City Library. The reason why is that our small locally-oriented collections are purchased principally with local taxes, and should be available to serve local needs. Those outside Takoma Park who wish to use the Library are asked to shoulder a minimum of the costs. If we were participants in reciprocal borrowing, symbolized by the new statewide card, these locally oriented and locally funded collections of mostly single copies could be borrowed by anyone residing anywhere in Maryland free of charge—resulting in a wide dispersal of local resources, and a dilution of materials available to Takoma Park citizens. We simply don’t have resources on the scale of the county systems, and it would make a real difference here if one of our Harry Potter CDs, the newest John Grisham novel, or lots of our new graphic novels were overdue somewhere in Upper Marlboro or Annapolis, to use random examples.

There are practical considerations as well, not as explicitly tied to direct service, which would nonetheless have an impact on us and those we serve. We would have to dedicate our own resources (staff hours and space) to sending any Maryland library materials returned to this library back to the jurisdiction that owns them. We don’t have an existing mechanism for the retrieval of our own materials from other libraries. Montgomery County shuttles errant books to and from our library approximately every two weeks, and this does not cost us anything. One must assume there would be added cost involved in the transport of larger numbers of books on a more frequent basis.

As dedicated public librarians, we certainly understand the benefits of reciprocal borrowing. This is nothing new; the new card, which simply eliminates the step of applying for a separate card in each jurisdiction, is an added convenience. While we applaud this added benefit for Takoma Park residents who visit other libraries, we are entrusted, first and foremost, with ensuring that local library resources are available to Takoma Park citizens.

The Blogs Are Coming

By Rebecca Brown
Library Public Services Coordinator

We would like to remind you that City staff maintain several weblogs, each with an RSS feed for those who use aggregators to check for news and Web site updates.

For Police Department bulletins, blotters, news and reports from the chief, staff maintain several weblogs, each with an orange XML button for anyone who wishes to subscribe.

Confused about aggregators and feeds? We have an explanatory page in draft form. Although it is unfinished, you are welcome to look at it: www.takomapark.info/library/rss.html. You may also want to read the article entitled RSS.

Leslie Sapp, “Live-Action Storyteller”

On Monday, May 16, at 7 p.m., Leslie Sapp performs a Spanish/English bilingual program of folktales from around the world for families at the Takoma Park Maryland Library.

Leslie Sapp has been creating, performing, teaching and directing movement-based theater since 1977. As a movement-theater artist, Leslie has been presented nationally, as well as on tour in Mexico.

Since the summer of 1999, Leslie Sapp has been performing primarily as a storyteller, combining acting, mime, expressive movement, physical comedy, and narration into a form she calls “Live-Action Storytelling.” Known for his physicality, imagination, warmth, and humor, Leslie’s Live-Action Storytelling has been presented widely at libraries, nightclubs, schools, theaters, community centers, art galleries, festivals, and birthday parties, as well as onboard the Cape May/Lewes Ferry and on stage at the Canadian Embassy.

Although the program on May 16 is especially intended for elementary school-age children, anyone from age three to 93 can enjoy Leslie’s unique and vibrant Live-Action Storytelling. Please call and let us know you will be attending. Call 310-891-7259.

Cooking Lessons from the TPVFD

Smoking around: Never leave cooking food unattended.

Dress right: No loose clothing. Roll up your sleeves.

Turn pot handles: Avoid bumping a pot and spilling hot food.

Be alert: Don’t cook if:

- you’ve been drinking a lot of alcohol
- you’re sleepy

Emergency Measures

Gas fires — If a pan of food catches fire, don’t use a fire extinguisher. Smother the fire by sliding a lid over the pan. Turn off the burner.

Oven fires — Close the oven door and turn off the heat. Microwave — Keep the door closed and unplug the microwave. Have the oven serviced before you use it again.

Smoke Alarms (again)

Many of you are repeating the same thing ... make sure you have working smoke alarms on all levels of the house, especially outside every sleeping area. They should be tested monthly and you should change the batteries twice a year when you change your clock times. You would not believe how many homes do not have working smoke alarms. They are out there!

In the event of a fire in your home, hopefully you are not one of them.

How To Fireproof your Babysitter

When choosing a sitter for your children never assume that he or she knows all that they need to know about babysitting.

• Get references. Try sitting as a legitimate business and check references.

• Put your sitter to the test with “what if...” questions. Write down information on where you plan to be and when you plan to return, include names and numbers of the family or place where you are going.

• Contact the sitter right away if your plans change.

• Give a tour of the home to familiarize the sitter with location of bedrooms, dressers, supplies, bathrooms, etc.

• Explain how doors and windows open, lock and unlock.

• Review your home fire escape plan. Explain where all exits are, especially from each child’s room, safe meeting place and trusted neighbor’s home to go to in case of an emergency.

House Rules

1. Explain rules on friends visiting, phone use and off limits food, VCR, T.V. or stereo.

2. Eliminate unnecessary tasks such as cooking, cleaning or giving baths. These tasks take the sitter’s attention away from children and can be dangerous.

3. Eliminate any potential hazards in your home.

4. Give a written profile of each child including:
   - full name/nickname
   - allergies/medications
   - food restrictions
   - behavioral problems
   - favorite foods/games
   - allergies (state while children are listening)

5. Inform sitter of behavior of pets and feeding schedules.

6. Be alert: Do not cook if:
   - you’ve been drinking a lot of alcohol
   - you’re sleepy

7. Turn pot handles: Avoid bumping a pot and spilling hot food.

8. Be alert: Don’t cook if:
   - you’ve been drinking a lot of alcohol
   - you’re sleepy

9. Emergencies — Gas fires — If a pan of food catches fire, don’t use a fire extinguisher. Smother the fire by sliding a lid over the pan. Turn off the burner.

10. Oven fires — Close the oven door and turn off the heat. Microwave — Keep the door closed and unplug the microwave. Have the oven serviced before you use it again.

11. Smoke Alarms (again) — Many of you are repeating the same thing ... make sure you have working smoke alarms on all levels of the home, especially outside every sleeping area. They should be tested monthly and you should change the batteries twice a year when you change your clock times. You would not believe how many homes do not have working smoke alarms. They are out there! In the event of a fire in your home, hopefully you are not one of them.

12. Inform sitter of behavior of pets and feeding schedules.
Swift Response Results in Arrests in Varied Crimes

By Carol Bannerman
Police Affairs Specialist

Immediate reporting of several crimes and quick police response in the last six weeks have led to numerous arrests. The apprehensions were for an assault on Carroll Ave., a strong-arm robbery on Cedar Ave. and assault and attempted kidnapping on Philadelphia Ave.

Takoma Park Police have charged an Adelphi man in relation to a March 21 assault in the 7000 block of Carroll Avenue. The man was apprehended in the 7300 block of Willow Ave., within minutes of the emergency report. The suspect has been charged with attempted first and second degree rape, attempted second and fourth degree sex offenses, and second degree assault. The victim, from Washington, D.C., sustained non-life threatening injuries and declined treatment at a local hospital.

The woman was at her car, near the intersection of Laurel and Carroll, at about 8:10 p.m. when the man assaulted her, without speaking. Pedestrians intervened and the man fled. While some witnesses aided the victim and called police, another followed the suspect, providing guidance to responding officers.

The suspect was chased from Park Ave., through yards, to Willow Ave., where he was apprehended at about 8:20 p.m. The man, 26 years old, is being held in Montgomery County Detention Center.

Another incident, in which the report was delayed, did not result in an apprehension. A man was walking north on Maple Avenue about 11 p.m. April 9 when he noticed two young men following him, one on either side of the street. The suspects approached him and made property demands, one displaying a weapon. After taking property they walked south on Maple Ave.

The victim reported he used the cell phone of a passing pedestrian, who refused and directed him to the police station. He continued to the station and a subsequent canine track for the suspects led to the 7100 block of Maple and was lost.

Burglary Charged in School Break-ins

Four Takoma Park youth were arrested April 10, about 2 a.m., for breaking into the Takoma Park Middle School. This is the third time in a year young people have entered the school and been apprehended by Takoma Park Police. The school’s security systems have assisted police in the apprehensions.

In the most recent incident, the teenagers appear not to have taken anything of caused damage inside. Two of the suspects surrendered immediately to arriving officers but two fled. In a search incident to arrest, one youth was found to be carrying an air/BB gun, a replica of a Sig Sauer handgun. The youths, three students at Blair High School and one at the Middle School, were released to their parents, charged with burglary and trespass; two were also charged with resisting arrest.

Last May, two break-ins occurred at the school. In one incident, three suspects were arrested at about 10 p.m., inside the school while attempting to remove property. These juveniles also had broken glass inside to access the property being taken. Also released to their parents, these Blair High School students were charged with burglary, theft and destruction of property. In the second incident, two 16-year-old males and a juvenile female were arrested as they were leaving the school about 1 a.m. They reported they had found an unlocked door and had just walked through the school. They were charged with burglary and trespass.

All youths were local residents, either from Silver Spring or Takoma Park. The Takoma Park youths came from throughout the city, not just near the school, with those arrested coming from Elm, Sy camore, Circle, Philadelphia, Ritchie, Gist and Maple Avenues.

Although in a young person’s perspective, a secret walk through a school might seem little more than adventure, breaking and entering can be charged as a felony in some instances. The police are required to contact the school system, which also treats the incident as a serious offense. The penalties can range from a conference to suspension with a recommendation for expulsion.

Where Does That 9-1-1 Call Go?

A fire occurred in early April, destroying a home in the 6600 block of Poplar Ave. Subsequent to the fire, discussion ensued about which county’s Emergency Call Center was reached by those initially reporting the fire. On April 12, Chief Cindy Creamer visited several homes in the area where residents allowed her to call 9-1-1 using their home phones. In every instance the calls went directly to the Montgomery County Emergency Center.

Using a cell phone, however, is a different story. Given the proximity to the Prince George’s County line and cell towers, in that area a call from a cell phone most likely will go to that county’s call center. Of course, dispatch will still be made but a brief amount of time may be used in the transfer of information.

The Takoma Park Police have long encouraged anyone making an emergency call for police assistance from a cell phone to dial the TPPD dispatcher directly at 301-270-1100, which should be programmed into a resident’s cell phone.

Fire emergency calls, the Fire Department recommends always using 9-1-1 for emergencies, whether land line or cell phone, and engines will be dispatched no matter where the call originates or is received. Career firefighters recommend that a caller immediately say the county of the problem and the nature of the emergency, such as “Montgomery County, fire emergency” or “Prince George’s County medical emergency.”

Fire departments are quite different from police agencies, which have jurisdictional boundaries. Firefighters respond regularly across county boundaries and it is not unusual to have teams from more than one station respond to a fire.

First Annual Soapbox Derby
In Old Town May 8

Takoma Park Box Scout Troop 33 is starting what it hopes will be a new tradition: the first annual Soapbox Derby, Sunday, May 8, 1–3 p.m. The competition will start at Tulip and Cedar avenues in Old Town, on the top of a nice slope down Tulip for the cars to gather speed.

The event celebrates the Boy Scout troop’s 85th anniversary, promotes the troop and local businesses as well. The competition features life-size model cars that will carry one passenger down the hills of Takoma Park.

For more information, go to http://bsa-troop33.net/ or e-mail Dave Lanar at dlaran@starpower.net or call 301-589-5590.

IMT to Present Tommy Makem,
Takoma Folkies in May

The Institute for Musical Traditions, the presenting arm of Takoma Park’s House of Musical Traditions, will sponsor five concerts in the folk tradition (broadly conceived) in the merry month of May. Probably deserving top billing is Irish bard Tommy Makem, who has been impressing American audiences ever since the Newport Folk Festivals of the 1960s.

All concerts will be held at the Saint Mark Presbyterian Church, 10701 Old Georgetown Road in Rockville at 7:30 p.m. For information on any concert, call 301-754-3611, or see www.imtfolk.org.

On May 2, IMT presents Azalea City Recordings Showcase, in honor of the release of the CD, Azalea Sampler No. 1. The concert will feature Rachel Cross, Andrea Hoag, Zoe Mulford, Jesse Palidofsky and Mary Sue Twobly; they and other artists appear on the CD. Azalea City Recordings is a record label based in Takoma Park; for more information, see www.azaleacityrecordings.com. Tickets $10 advance, $12 at the door.

On May 9, the Canadian roots band Tanglefoot will perform. Starting with interpretations of traditional Canadian songs and now writing most of their own materials, Tanglefoot has a big, full-throttle sound, a relentlessly energetic live show packed with humor, audience rapport, and a strong following. Tickets are $12 in advance, $15 at the door.

Gazett Rogers, appearing May 17, has been praised for his “smooth, dark-baritone” (Washington Post) his incredible range, and thoughtful, dramatic phrasing. If you don’t believe us, see www.garnettrogers.com. He is reputed to sing extraordinary songs about people who are not obvious heroes, combining the over-the-top humor and lightning-quick wit. Tickets $14 advance, $17 door.

On Saturday, May 21, Irish singer, songwriter, storyteller, actor and bard Tommy Makem will come to the wilds of Rockville. He’s been called the Godfather of Irish music, armed with his banjo, tin whistle, poetry, stagecraft and his magnificent baritone voice, and has been mesmerizing audiences for more than four decades. Tommy continues to perform as a soloist and is also frequently accompanied by members of his family on tour. Tickets are $18 in advance, $22 at the door.

On May 22, Walt Michaels will appear in a benefit for the Maryland Consumer Rights Coalition, a nonprofit advocacy group. Considered to be a virtuoso of tremendous influence in the revival of the hammered dulcimer, Walt’s 35-year career has taken him from the coal camps of Appalachia to the Closing Ceremonies of the 13th Olympic Winter Games. Accompanying Walt are Alexander Mitchell on fiddle and Ralph Gordon on bass.

The roots/bluegrass trio Don’t Look Back will open the show. Tickets are $15 advance, $20 at the door.

July 4th Yard Sale May 21:
Donations Needed for Fund Raiser

The Takoma Park Independence Day Committee is holding a yard sale Saturday, May 21, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the Takoma Park Library grounds, 101 Philadelphia Ave., to help defray the expenses for the July Fourth parade and fireworks. The committee needs your help!

Spring clean your house for a good cause. Donations of quality items in good and clean condition for the yard sale are needed: Knick-knacks, bric-a-brac, furniture, collectibles, household items, bicycles, toys, appliances (only if they work, please), exercise equipment, office equipment, etc. are welcome.

No clothes, please.

All donations should be brought to the Municipal Building back entrance, 7500 Maple Ave., Friday, May 20, between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. If you need help with large items, or for further information, call 301-270-8121 or 301-270-6876. Your support will be greatly appreciated.

Also, more groups are being sought to participate in this year’s parade–school, band or dance groups are encouraged to march along in this great community-building event. Additionally, the committee needs people to sell raffle tickets, which help pay for the evening fireworks.

For more information, contact Belle Ziegler at 301-589-5590.

City TV releases the final performances this month from the Takoma Park Street Festival: The Three Wise Guys, plus Michelle Ava and Spirit Dance on one tape; local acapella singers Reverb on the other.

Premiering in May is a new Spanish language series: Actualidad Metropolitana. The first episode is “Programa de Asistencia a Víctimas de Asalto Sexual.” The second episode is “Compleadas Domesticas.” These will air during the City TV Special Events time slots on May 17, 18, 24 and 25.

Takoma Snapshots in May includes the following segments:

• Community Oriented Policing: “Going to the Dogs”
• Tastes of Takoma

The City Council may be having additional public hearings on budget topics during May, and if so, they will be aired live on channel 13. Be sure to check the City’s Web site for most current information on this schedule.

Visit our Web site at www.cityoftakomapark.org/cable to access show listings and times and other specific programming information.

Community and neighborhood groups may submit non-commercial notices regarding meetings or special events to City TV for inclusion on the bulletin board. All Council meetings and Snapshots episodes are available for patron checkout at the Takoma Park Maryland Library. VHS tapes of these shows, as well as other Takoma Park City TV events, may be purchased for $15 (pickup) or $18 (mail). Some programs are now available in DVD. $350,000 in New State Funds Will Help Community Center Toward Completion

The City has been given an additional $350,000 in state funds, during the closing days of the recent state legislative session, to help complete the Community Center now under construction. The City had lobbied in Annapolis for the additional funds, and was fairly successful ($1 million had been the full amount requested, but that sum was not really expected).

The money came from “bond bill” funding, in which the state government raises money for capital projects around Maryland for both local governments and nonprofit organizations. The money comes as a grant—the City must supply matching funds, but that requirement has already been met.

The City’s community and government liaison, Suzanne Ludlow, said she was “delighted” about the state’s decision, and explained that the funds might well go to restore one or more of the Community Center features that have been temporarily cut from the project because of a funding shortfall. Mayor Kathy Porter says that it would not be feasible to use the $350,000 to reduce the amount of the City’s own borrowing for the Community Center, as some have suggested, because the City has already committed to borrow $2.6 million through a state-administered bond program. Historically, Takoma also obtained $50,000 from state bond bills to begin looking for a place to house the City’s archives.

Councilmember Joy Austin-Lane, who lobbied for the funds, noted “Many thanks go to our District 20 representatives, Ida Ruben and Peter Franchot, who spearheaded efforts to obtain money for City projects.”

April 10 Was the Day to Taste Diversity

April 10 brought a wonderfully sunny day to a festival organized for people of all ages, and the Takoma Park community enthusiastically took advantage of this opportunity.

A team of eight Columbia Union College students and almost 40 Columbia Union College Acro-Airs members woke up very early on Sunday to have tables, chairs, signs, vendors, sponsors, and carnival games all organized and ready to start by noon.

The festival started a little bit after twelve noon with Latin music and dancers on stage to add some spice to the festival. Food vendors stationed along Flower Avenue under a line of tents were soon visited by large crowds looking for Caribbean, Middle Eastern, Mexican and Salvadoran flavors.

On the Commons 20 different businesses, craft vendors and non-profit organizations shared information, brochures and their talents. Crowds estimated at about 4,000 enjoyed the talent of local artists, bought unique gifts and got information on important causes.

Nearby nursing students from Columbia Union College gave free health screenings and even Washington Adventist Hospital President, Jere Stocks, handed out flyers on the importance of water.

Kids excitedly ran across the Commons to line up for a trip through the giant Jurassic Park bounce house, score a goal in a tiny soccer net, to dress up and take pictures at the photo booth or to guess the right number of candies at the candy jar. The little ones had an opportunity to dance and sing with BanjoMan, Frank Cassel and later in the afternoon to get their faces painted and enjoy magic tricks with The Great Zucchino.

To add energy and suspense to the event the Acro-Airs, Columbia Union’s acrobatic team, thrilled the crowds with high-flying drills and human pyramids. Another group that blew people away was the band of hip-hop, blues, and rock ‘n roll. There was no better way to end the festival than with contagious rhythms that sent many dancing all the way home.

City’s Stencil-a-Drain Program Gets Under Way

Four teams of volunteers are working to stencil environmental awareness messages on Takoma Park’s storm drain inlets. This program is a public awareness campaign based on resident participation at all levels. The teams stencil messages such as “Chesapeake Bay Drainage” on storm drains, to encourage residents to think about how pollution can travel through storm sewers. The City has initiated the program with four teams, and this round will continue until all drain inlets are stenciled at least once.

Stenciling kits are checked out for 14 days, excluding weekends, by a team made up of at least two volunteers. Teams will also distribute flyers that inform residents of sources and nature of pollutants, and offers tips that help everyone become a participant in reducing pollution and its detrimental effects on our water resources and environment.

The following teams are currently assigned to different watersheds in the City. The first round will end the first week of May. Teams may choose to continue or return the kit for use by another volunteer.

Crossing Guard Stationed At Cedar and Philadelphia

The City Council voted April 18 to station a school crossing guard at the complicated intersection where Cedar Avenue meets Route 410. The City’s community and government liaison, Suzanne Ludlow, said she was “delighted” about the state’s decision, and explained that the funds sent many dancing all the way home.

More than 70 schoolchildren cross the intersection every school day, going to Takoma and Piney Branch elementary schools and Takoma Park Middle School.

That’s more than enough to warrant a crossing guard by official standards, but Creamer argued persistently that the intersection was unsafe and stationing a guard there to help children cross was wise.

But residents of the neighborhood argued that the intersection is such a natural crossing point between parts of Old Town and the schools that it was smarter to have a guard there to stop traffic and help children cross Route 410 (Philadelphia Ave.).

In particular, Creamer pointed out that pedestrians after crossing 410 are likely to enter the parking lot behind the City’s library, where, in addition to normal traffic, heavy equipment for Community Center construction is now operating. “There have been a number of accidents in the parking lot since construction started,” she said.

Posing the crossing guard, Creamer said, “beals down to providing an escort into harm’s way.” The chief said children would be safer crossing Route 410 either at Holly or Maple avenues, where crossing guards are already stationed. Adding to the danger is the fact that cars can come from a third street, Old Philadelphia Ave., enter 410 near Cedar, making the roadway extra wide.

But residents presented a strong case several weeks in a row. The City’s Safe Roadways Committee and the Old Town Residents Association, a neighborhood group, backed them up. Ward 1 Councilmember Joy Austin-Lane supported the crossing guard proposal as well.

In the end, people power carried the day, and the Council decided to station a guard there, at least until the end of the current school year. Austin-Lane and City staff have also been talking to the Maryland State Highway Administration (SHA), which has jurisdiction over Route 410. SHA has promised to improve pedestrian safety at the intersection, at a minimum by painting more visible crosswalk stripes there.
