Residential Waste - 2016

19% Recycling
3% Food waste
46% Trash
32% Food waste

This chart provides a breakdown of the type of residential waste generated in the city last year.

Waste Management 101: A review of Takoma Park’s 2016 efforts

The City had a total recycling rate of 54 percent, meaning that more than half of the waste generated was diverted from the disposed waste stream.

Waste generated in the City of Takoma Park is collected by the sanitation staff from Monday to Friday. Yard waste is collected on Mondays, and trash, food waste and recycling is collected from four different neighborhoods between Tuesday and Friday. In addition, the City provides fall leaf collection five weeks per year generally beginning during the third week of November and ending in late December.

Residents and City leaders remain committed to sanctuary ordinance

Hundreds gathered at the Takoma Park Community Center on Feb. 4 for a public teach-in on the city’s sanctuary ordinance and how it protects their immigrant neighbors. “There’s a lot of angst in the community,” said Takoma Park Police Chief Alan Goldberg, “but we’re here to say that it’s business as usual in Takoma Park.”

The angst stems from a series of executive orders signed by President Donald Trump related to curbing immigration, including one that targets sanctuary cities like Takoma Park specifically.

The order, titled Enhancing Public Safe-

Scatter garden advocates turned down by council

By Rick Henry

A group in Takoma Park was looking for eternal life. The big question – where will one go to achieve it? After a several-month search, members of the Committee for a Takoma Park Scatter Garden identified three possible sites within the city that they feel are ideal candidates for locating the city’s first municipal “scatter garden,” a place where people scatter the ashes of their loved ones, whose names are displayed on small plaques.

However, the City Council did a hand vote at its meeting on Feb. 22, indicating no interest in pursuing a scatter garden on city land at this time.

The three sites that the group had proposed are:
1. Upper Portal Park, located at the corner of Eastern Avenue and Piney Branch Road, adjacent to the Cady-Lee Mansion;
2. Stuart Armstrong Park/Woods, a big section of woods located at Philadelphia and Holly Avenues between Takoma Elementary School and Piney Branch Road; and
3. Thomas-Siegler House and Garden, located at the intersection of Tulip and Maple Avenues.

Update on changing the date of city elections

Since residents who voted on the 2015 advisory ballot question showed strong support for changing the date of City elections to coincide with State and Federal general elections, the City Council, Board of Elections and staff have been planning for a change of date beginning in 2018. If the election date is changed, City residents will go to their usual precincts to vote in the 2018 general election. They will check in, receive, mark and cast their ballots for the City election and then repeat the process for the State or Federal election (or check in first for the State or Federal election). In other words, there will be two separate elections taking place at each Takoma Park precinct. This separate voting is necessary because the City is not able to have its contests added to the State ballot in 2018.

To proceed, the City Council must amend the City Charter to change the date. The charter amendment would include setting a one-year term for the City Council and Mayor elected in 2017. There will be an election in 2018, when City Councilmembers and Mayor will be elected for the usual two-year terms.

The Council will also consider an amendment to move the nominating meeting earlier than the usual five weeks before the election. The amendment would move the meeting to the second Tuesday after Labor Day. A public hearing on the date change was scheduled for March 1, before this issue of the newsletter was distributed. City residents should have received a postcard mailer with information about the date change. If the Council still plans to implement the change of date after the March 1 public hearing, the charter amendment process will begin with a second public hearing on April 5. See the public hearing notice for details.

On Jan. 18, the City Council adopted Resolution 2017-1 authorizing distribution of City of Takoma Park Scholarship funds for Montgomery College students. The College will administer the program and distribute five $1,000 scholarships to Takoma Park resident students who have financial need and meet the criteria and preferences established in the resolution.

On Jan. 25, Ordinance 2017-1 was adopted to authorize up to $11,000 for a contract with iCan Shine Inc. to conduct a summer bike camp for students with disabilities to learn to ride a bike safely and confidently. This is the third year of the camp, which is sponsored in conjunction with the City’s Safe Routes to School program.

On Feb. 8, the City Council adopted Resolution 2017-2 opposing Maryland HB 431 — Transportation — State Highway Administration — Sale or Lease of Highway Naming Rights. The Council also adopted Ordinance 2017-2, FY 2017 Budget Amendment No. 2 and Ordinance 2017-3 to authorize a contract for services with The Cloudburst Group in the amount of

VACANCIES ON CITY BOARDS, COMMISSIONS AND COMMITTEES

Interested in serving? A great first step is to review information at: www.takomaparkmd.gov/government/boards-commissions-and-committees. Then, attend a meeting to see if it is a good fit for you. If you have questions, contact the committee, or talk to your City Councilmember or the City Clerk. Appointments are made by the City Council. Apply by completing the online application and submit it along with a resume or statement of qualifications.

The following groups have vacancies as of Feb. 17, 2017:

- The Arts and Humanities Commission advises the City Council on ways in which the City might best serve the public with regard to matters involving the arts; encourages and aids the appreciation and awareness of, and participation in, the arts; encourages cooperation and coordination among individuals, organizations and institutions concerned with the arts in Takoma Park; and facilitates employment opportunities for artists and the development of self-sustaining arts programs. (3 vacancies)

- The Commemoration Commission documents, maintains, and preserves past, present, and future memorials, commemorative records, and organizations within the City; recommends to the City Council procedures and programs to honor and commemorate individuals, organizations and businesses that have made significant contributions to the social, cultural, historical, political, economic, or civic life of the City or its neighborhoods; recommends programs for individuals to honor others; implements such programs; and decides on recognitions after opportunity for public review and comment. Five vacancies (there are no members from Ward 4 or Ward 5).

- The Ethics Commission provides written advisory opinions; investigates, hears, and decides on ethics inquiries and complaints; conducts a public education program; recommends legislative changes and improvements to the Ethics Ordinance; and promulgates regulations to accompany the Ethics Ordinance. (2 vacancies)

- The Nuclear-Free Takoma Park Committee oversees implementation and adherence to the Takoma Park Nuclear Free Zone Act and provides public information and issues related to the Ordinance. (1 vacancy)

- The Recreation Committee advises the City Council on how best to serve the diverse recreation needs of Takoma Park residents, including but not limited to reviewing and recommending policies and programs that concern recreational opportunities within the City, with a special emphasis on youth and seniors and broad and diverse participation. (3 vacancies)

- The Safe Roadways Committee advises the City Council on transportation-related issues including, but not limited to, pedestrian and bicycle facilities and safety, traffic issues, and transit services and encourages Takoma Park residents to use alternatives to driving, including walking, bicycling, and transit. (3 vacancies)

In addition to the above vacancies, the following other committees have members with terms that expire March 31: the Emergency Preparedness Committee and the Façade Advisory Board.

Here's an overview of how the City manages waste once it's collected from residents.

Waste Management

Yard waste and fall leaves: The collected yard waste and fall leaves are brought to the Public Works yard and passed through a tub grinder, which shreds the material into small pieces. This mulch is then made available to the public for pick-up as well as delivery. Yard waste can be used as a top-dressing around trees and gardens. The City also uses mulch in its bio-retention facilities to help filter stormwater.

Trash: The City collects trash from single-family and multi-family homes that are fewer than 13 units. On average, a Takoma Park household produces 38 pounds of trash per week. With an assumption of a typical four-member household, the per capita production is significantly lower than the national average of 38.8 pounds of recycling, as estimated by the EPA. Recycling collected by the City is processed in a facility operated by the Maryland Environmental Service in Prince George's County.

The City uses the Prince George's County facility because it accepts recycling in a single stream. The Montgomery County recycling facility requires paper to be delivered separately from the other recyclables, as also known as split-stream or dual stream. The City changed from dual-stream to single-stream collection to reduce program costs by using one truck for recycling collection instead of two.

Food waste: Food waste is collected on the same day as trash and recycling weekly. Participation in the food waste collection program is voluntary, and households can sign up for the program on the city website. The collected food waste is transported to Prince George’s County Composting facility operated by Maryland Environmental Service. This facility is the only one in our area currently providing food composting services.

Moving forward

The City relies on regional waste disposal facilities to process its waste. The Maryland Environmental Services Food Waste Composting facility has set a cap on the amount of food waste the city can haul to its composting facility to five tons per week. Currently the City brings just less than four tons of food waste to the facility weekly. Efforts to increase participation in the food waste program would help reduce the amount of waste requiring disposal slightly. However, more is needed to meet area waste reduction goals.

Montgomery and Prince George's Counties have set solid waste management goals to achieve a new 65 and 60 percent waste diversion rate by 2020, respectively. Their plans highlight public outreach, new policy implementation and innovation to be key strategies toward achieving their goal.

From 2010 through 2013, Takoma Park's yearly recycling collection remained relatively constant with an average yearly collection of 1,500 tons. Public outreach to better inform residents what this means, and to possibly help us increase recycling tonnage. The City implemented an online tool in 2016 to provide that type of help.

Scatter Garden

Encouraged by community feedback and working in concert with City parks and recreation staff and the Commmeration Commission, residents, including Jennifer Beman, have spent the last few months exploring the issue and location options in response to inquiries from the City Council.

"The City Council asked us to gather information about where it (the scatter garden) might be located, what it might look like and how it might function and then present it to them," Beman said. According to Beman, five criteria were used to evaluate the final three sites that were selected:

1. The property has to be owned and maintained by the City, not the county.
2. Immediate neighbors of the property must be supportive. "We went and talked with a lot of neighbors, and no one objected to the idea," Beman said.
3. The sites must be able to be adopted without a lot of change.
4. The site must be "appropriate." According to Beman, appropriate means "serene and tranquil, but also visible. It's a hard balance to find."
5. The site must be underutilized, meaning it is not really being used for any other purpose.

Beman White said each proposed site has its virtues. "There are a number of markers already at Upper Portal," she said. "And there is already a garden at the Thomas-Sanger property, and we propose to locate the scatter garden behind the Carriage House." The Stuart Armstrong property was suggested by City gardener Mike Welsh. "It is basically an unused park with a lot of woods and is close to the municipal heart of town," Beman said.

As to the other two issues the City Council raised, Beman said that she does not expect that any of the three areas would change significantly. "We would need a sign and maybe a bench or two, and we are not asking the City to pay. We would do a fundraising campaign to pay for those costs," she said, noting that the group has received lots of support and encouragement and minimal concern from residents about the project.

She added that in addition to extensive canvassing of the neighborhoods near the proposed sites, around 200 signatures on a petition supporting the garden have been gathered, and public comment has been available through a website and a public meeting held on Sunday, Feb. 5.

However, at the Takoma Park City Council's Nov. 2 meeting, councilmembers expressed concern about a range of issues, including how eligibility for use of the garden would be determined, the costs the City would incur in maintenance and staff time, and in general, whether the City should be involved in this endeavor based on its other priorities.

Further, following Beman's presentation at the council's Feb. 22 meeting, Mayor Kate Stewart called for a show of hands to determine whether council members were in favor of the committee continuing its work or they were against the proposal for the scatter garden. The vote was 4 to 3 against the proposal with Council Members Kovar, Qureshi, Schultz and Smith opposing the idea.

Still, Beman and the other supporters plan to meet with them individually during the next few months in hopes of changing their minds. They feel that a scatter garden within the city is something that should and will happen. "The histories of many towns are written in cemeteries," she said. "This will leave a legacy of the City and create a space for those who are left behind to visit and reflect."
Letters of inquiry sought for FY18 Community Grants Program

The Takoma Park Grants Review Committee is accepting letters of inquiry from organizations seeking funding through the City of Takoma Park’s FY18 Community Grants Program for projects occurring between July 1, 2017 and June 30, 2018. The City of Takoma Park’s Community Grants Program is designed to provide financial support for specific programs, projects, and events that improve residents’ quality of life by providing greater access and opportunities for participation in the arts and sciences.

A letter of inquiry is required of all applicants. The letter of inquiry cover sheet and requirements may be found on the City’s website, to verify eligibility for funding.

To be considered for funding, organizations are encouraged to review the Community Grants Program Guidelines, available on the City’s website, to verify eligibility for funding.

Takoma Junction community consultation continues

This month Neighborhood Development Company (NDC) in partnership with the City of Takoma will host the second set of four community meetings to seek input and share information about the proposed project located at the intersection of Ethan Allen and Carroll Avenue. Two meetings were held last month that addressed the topics of form and character with market and retail ideas. The topics covered at the March meetings will be the public realm and access and mobility. Come give your input on design features of the new development.

The two meetings are identical in content and opportunity for feedback. Choose the option that works best for your schedule.

Andrew Marcus (accordion) tours with numerous highly sought-after contra dance bands, including Giant Robot Dance. Glyn and Andrew also form the core of Frog Hammer, the DC region’s premier English ceilidh dance band and have appeared at many ceilidh and contra dances throughout the region.

New Mural for Takoma/Langley

A new mural is coming to the Takoma/Langley Crossroads this spring. It will be painted on the side of 1337 Holton Lane, across the street from the large mural created in 2015. The Takoma/Langley Crossroads Development Authority (CDA) has contracted with the Krsko Group to create the new mural. Both properties are owned by JBGR, which has given its approval to the project.

The artists will seek community input on possible themes for the new mural at two community meetings at the Takoma Park Recreation Center, 7315 New Hampshire Avenue. The first meeting is Friday, March 17 from 6-8 p.m. The artists will introduce past projects, process and vision for the mural, and engage in an exchange of ideas with the community. The second meeting is on Thursday, March 23 from 6:30-8:30 p.m., where the artists will present an updated sketch that incorporates ideas from the March 17 meeting. The mural will be designed to incorporate imagery resulting from the community discussions, and participants will be encouraged to create stencils representing the ideas and to paint them.

Community residents are invited to attend the March 17 and March 23 meetings and offer their ideas to the Krsko Group. For more information, call 301-445-7910.

The Love of Coaching
Jesse Taylor is a long-time volunteer coach for the City of Takoma Park Recreation Department’s athletic programs. Coach Jesse, as he is affectionately known, has coached and volunteered with several sports programs, including basketball, T-ball, and flag football.
Taylor is one of those volunteers that you can always count on to come back season after season ready to pour back into the youth. His energy, passion and patience are immeasurable, and this is what makes him such a popular pick for players and parents alike.
Jesse, who is also a former participant in the recreation department sports leagues, prides himself on taking opportunities to be a positive role model for those in and around the Takoma Park Community. This past summer, Coach Jesse (picted with his team, far right), earned his very first Y.E.S. League Championship after several years of falling short. He often speaks on how important that championship was to the kids on his team because “they all felt like underdogs that weren’t supposed to be there.”

Coach Jesse has the innate ability to quickly build relationships and gain trust amongst his players. This attribute has allowed him to be a better teacher of the game, no matter what the sport is. The recreation department is so very appreciative to have wonderful coaches like Jesse Taylor, who continually dedicate countless hours to help aid in the success of young people. If interested in becoming a coach or participating in one of our upcoming sports programs, please visit us online at www.takomaparkmd.gov/recreation/athletics.
Cirincione to be featured speaker at Friends Annual Meeting

By Tim Rahn

Takoma Park resident and advocate for nuclear nonproliferation Joe Cirincione will speak at annual meeting of the Friends of Takoma Park Maryland Library on Thursday, March 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the children’s room of the Library.

An author of several books and numerous articles, Cirincione is an expert on the threat of nuclear, chemical and biological weapons in the post-Cold War era. Currently, Cirincione serves as president of the Ploughshares Fund, a Washington-based foundation that provides grants aimed at reducing weapons stockpiles.

Cirincione was vice-president of national security at the Center for American Progress prior to joining Ploughshares. He has also worked for the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and served on the staffs of the U.S. House of Representatives committees on Armed Services and Government Operations.

As president of Ploughshares, Cirincione addresses audiences internationally about the risks of nuclear programs. Having appeared numerous times on network news shows, Cirincione writes frequent commentaries for print media as well. He also teaches at the graduate School of Foreign Service at Georgetown University.

Times of Turmoil in the Friends Book Club Selection

By Tim Rahn

E.L. Doctorow’s 1971 novel, The Book of Daniel will be discussed by the Friends Book Group on Wednesday, March 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the Hydrangea Room of the Takoma Park Community Center. The Book of Daniel is a fictionalized telling of the story of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, the only citizens to be convicted and executed for espionage during the Cold War. As told through the eyes of a son, Daniel, some 15 years after the execution of his parents, the novel weaves the political and cultural turmoil into the family story.

In an interview, Doctorow, who replaces the Rosenbergs with Isaacsons, said the idea for the novel came from hearing about the “new left [of the late 1960s], and I began to wonder how it compared with the old left of the ‘30s.” The Kirkus Review wrote of The Book of Daniel that “one questions some of it even in this fictional form but one accepts it for what it is – a raving, riveting experience which will be read all through the long nights to come.”

Doctorow, a three-time winner of the National Book Critic Circle Award, author for Ragtime, Billy Bathgate, and The March, died in July 2016. His books frequently blend fictional and historical characters to examine human behavior, especially our often floundering attempts to learn from the past.

All are welcome to attend the Friends Book Group discussions. Copies of the book are available at the City Library.

A Puppet Show for Everyone

Back by popular demand, Beech Tree Puppets presents “Rainbow Crow Brings Daylight” on Saturday, March 11 at 2 p.m.

For this puppet show, Beech Tree founders Ingrid and Ole Haas have adapted Native American folk and creation tales from the Lenape and Inuit tribes, and audience members will be able to follow Crow on his journey to the Sky Spirit, as he brings fire to earth and saves the other animals. Aimed at ages 4-104, the 45-minute puppet show is free, requires no registration, and will be presented in the Azalea Room of the Takoma Park Community Center. Thanks to the Friends of the Takoma Park Maryland Library for sponsoring our program!
The Women’s March on Washington through My Lens: A Photographic Essay

By Selena Malott

What a difference a day can make. January 20, Inauguration Day, was an extremely somber day for many. Most of us couldn’t bear to speak of it and even more refused to watch it happen. Our hearts were broken, but we would not be silenced. The one thing we were certain of was that the next day we would march.

On January 21, I woke feeling hopeful and grateful to be a part of The Women’s March on Washington as well as document the monumental day. That said, nothing could have prepared me for what I witnessed or felt throughout the day.

As I made my way downtown, the streets were full with shouts and signs hoisted high focused on a variety of issues and concerns, including immigration reform, gun control, climate change, planned parenthood, the GLBTQ community, Native Americans, and public education, just to name a few. It was deeply moving to witness so many people channeling their outrage into peaceful protest.

Handmade signs held or fashioned to shirts, caps – all brilliant in their own right. Mothers with daughters, sons, husbands, friends smiling locked in arms, men and women of every color, race, description and moral suasion. Each one coming together in solidarity to let their government know, we are more with each other, than against each other – we must return to civil discourse and protect everyone’s rights.

The positive energy was uplifting and contagious. My body was covered in perpetual goose bumps as I and 500,000 plus marched our way down Independence Avenue. The streets echoed our chants, flowing from front to back like a vocal wave, tossing it back again to the onlookers and those gathered on the many side streets converging with the pack:

• My body, My choice! Her body, Her choice!
• Tell me what democracy looks like. This is what democracy looks like.
• Education not deportation!
• No justice! No peace!

It was amazing, being greeted with genuine smiles by perfect strangers, embraced by some and laughing with others. Each of us felt the spirit of the day: Stronger Together.

To say that being a part of the Women’s March was a life-affirming experience would sound a bit dramatic, but it truly was. Here are a few of my favorite photographs of this undeniably historic moment in time.

PBES feasibility study moves forward with work sessions

Three of the four public work sessions scheduled in conjunction with the PBES Feasibility Study have already taken place. The final session and a presentation are scheduled for this month. What follows is a selected summary of the information shared and the issues raised at the previous work sessions.

For complete summaries of the work sessions and to view the presentations give them, visit www.montgomeryschoolsmd.org/departments/facilities/construction/project/pineybranch.aspx.

Work Session 1

At the first work session on Jan. 31, Dave Fischer of Smolen Enr Ikovich Arch- itects (SEA) reviewed all the potential locations for adding programmed square footage to PBES.

Location 1: Hill area along northwest side of building. According to Fischer, building in this location would require cooperation and compromise between MCPS and other public county and local agencies as that area is land owned by Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission and programmed by City of Takoma Park Parks Department.

Location 2: In front of building services loading dock on the east of the building. Fischer indicated that any addition in this area would need to be elevated off of the ground to maintain access to the loading dock. Parking may be affected at this location.

Location 3: Above the current bus loop/parent drop-off loop/parking lot at the front entrance of the building. Fischer stated that any addition here would need to be elevated to the tie in to the existing top floor of the building. Parking and traffic will likely be affected at this location.

Location 4: The south corner of the building on an existing parking lot location. An addition in this location could potentially go down to grade and not need to be elevated but would cost parking.

Location 5: Inside of the volume of what is currently the public pool

Location 6: On the plaza currently connecting the school and play fields located above the current locker room space and/or the locker rooms.

Work Session 2

Prior to this session on Feb. 7, all community comments were reviewed, and SEI generated several concepts for review and discussion. These concepts will then be revised based on community feedback. Concepts A-F were presented at the meeting. After discussion, Concept B was eliminated.

Work Session 3

Revised concepts were presented at this session on Feb. 21. Significantly abbreviated descriptions of each concept are provided here. For more detailed information and to view the proposed floor plans, view the full presentation on the MCPS website.

Concept A, Build into Hill:
• Provide parking at back of site, 29 spaces (addition of 21 spaces)
• Extend back stair up to top level

Concept B, Corner & Plaza:
• Provide parking at back of site 29 (addition of 21 spaces)
• New car drop-off loop with inset parking added
• Provide parking at back of site, 28 (addition of 20 spaces)
• Convert inboard classroom to storage
• Convert inboard classroom to storage
• Bridge to park for accessibility

Concept C, Parent Loop:
• Half of pool volume demolished
• New car drop-off loop with inset parking added
• Provide parking at back of site, 28 (addition of 20 spaces)
• Secondary entrance for arrival and dismissal
• Convert inboard classroom to storage
• Bridge to park for accessibility

Concept E, Pool Renovation:
• Provide parking at back of site 29 (addition of 21 spaces)
• All program located within shell of pool and locker rooms
• Gymnasium, cafeteria, and ICB storage added
• Volume space above pool left available, pool filled with lightweight material for maximum flexibility in future
• Admin suite at secondary entrance
• Existing plaza converted to outdoor teaching space
• Bridge to park for accessibility

Concept F, Roof Construction:
• Provide parking at back of site 29 (addition of 21 spaces)
• Classroom clusters on pool and gym roofs
• Accessible bridge to park doubles as outdoor classroom

Upcoming Meetings

Work Session #4: PTA Presentation
Wednesday, March 1
Tuesday, March 28
6:30 p.m.

Both meetings will be held at the school. However, as clarified in the “Meetings Notes” posted on the MCPS website, the following work session on Jan. 31, community members are encouraged to attend the final meeting on March 28. “This meeting will serve as a recap of the FS and report out the end results of the study. While this has been labeled a ‘PTA Presentation,’ the intent is not to bar community members who do not have children currently in the school.”
Passport Services

Passport services are available on first come, first served basis Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Takoma Park Community Center on the second floor. Takoma Park staff encourage calling the City’s main phone number at 301-891-7100 and checking if the office is open before departing for the Community Center for passport services.

For additional information, visit takomaparkmd.gov/services/passports.

Maryland fire deaths

The Maryland State Fire Marshal Office reported as of February 27, 13 people have died in fires compared to 16 in February 2016.

Fire safety message

Older Americans are one of the groups at greatest risk of dying in a fire. On average, 959 Americans age 65 and over die in fires each year. People over the age of 80 die in fires at a rate three times higher than the rest of the population. Older Americans are at increased risk for death and injuries because:

• They may be less able to take the quick action necessary in a fire emergency.
• They may be on medication that affects their ability to make quick decisions.
• Many older people live alone, and when accidents happen, others may not be around to help.

If you have an older relative or friend, maybe you should be checking on them. Make sure they know what to do in an emergency.

The firefighter will discuss the escape routes, advice depending on the disability, and resources.

Thanks to James Resnick, Montgomery County Fire & Rescue Service for this information and opportunity. It’s easy to contact the emergency preparedness committee at tpepc@takomaparkmd.gov or 301-891-7126.

Takoma Park 4-H Club hosts annual animal support drive

“People helping animals and Animals helping people” is the theme for this annual event, which will be held on TBD, March 25 in the Takoma Park Library parking lot. Takoma Park 4H Club is in its 7th year, and this is the organization’s 7th Annual Animal Drive.

Every year the 4Hers make toys for the cats and dogs at the Humane Rescue Alliance (formerly Washington Animal Rescue League) to coincide with the animal drive. In past years, the club has collected over $700 in donations, both in cash and in-kind donations. Help the alliance by dropping off gently used or new pet toys, unopened pet food, clean used towels and blankets, and cash or check donations. For more information, contact pptakoma@mindspring.com.

THE FIREHOUSE REPORT

By Jim Jarboe

As of Jan. 31, the Takoma Park Volunteer Fire Department and the personnel of the Montgomery County Fire and Rescue Service assigned to the station have responded to 51 fire-related incidents in 2017. The department addressed or assisted with 226 rescue or ambulance-related incidents for a total of 277, representing a decrease of 82 incidents.

During January, the Takoma Park volunteers put in a total of 1,673.5 hours of standby time at the station compared to 1,235.5 hours in January 2016.

Three Takoma Park VFD members graduate

In Feb. 10, at the new Montgomery County Public Service Training Academy, three members of the Takoma Park VFD received their training certificates: Daniel Carroll (EMT course), Christie Balch and Jonathan Aiken (Firefighter 1 and 2 course). And Jonathan received the Marvin A. Gibbons Award for being top in his class. Congrats to all three!!

Fire Escape: Getting a warning and getting out

By Claudine Schweber, co-chair, Emergency Preparedness Committee

Don’t wait to see smoke coming through your doors or waking up to burning smells. How would you get out? If upstairs at the time of the fire, should you jump out of a window—which one? And where are those smoke alarms? Why weren’t they ringing? Who do you call? Now is the time to get working smoke detectors, have a home safety check, identify fire escape routes, and more.

Isn’t this expensive? No, it’s free from Montgomery County Fire & Rescue Service. To get more information, call 240-777-2430 or visit www.mcrs.maryland.gov/mcsafe.

Here’s what’s offered:

• Home safety check: The firefighter will look at placement of smoke alarms, exits, possible escape routes, and share this information with the house/apartment members right away.

• Working smoke detectors: A new smoke alarm law (Jan. 1, 2018) requires that all batteries have a 10-year lifespan. Note: Smoke alarms must (1) not be more than 10 years old (from the date of manufacture) and (2) are not permitted to have a removable battery as the primary power source. This means that you must either have hard-wired smoke alarms with a battery backup or smoke alarms that are powered by a sealed, long-life battery. MCFRS will install new battery-powered smoke alarms free.

• Escape routes: The firefighter will discuss the escape routes, including those from upper floors. For upper floors, this means looking outside and checking the potential soft ground, so there’s a soft landing. For the walk-in floor, this means identifying which would be the fastest exit route, plus alternatives. It also means identifying where folks would meet outside, nearby, and how to identify the location to the fire department. A sensible fire escape plan requires working smoke alarms in the correct location to give you early warning of a fire.

• Helping people with disabilities: The firefighter will offer suggestions about escapes, advice depending on the disability, and resources.

Thanks to James Resnick, Montgomery County Fire & Rescue Service for this information and opportunity. It’s easy to contact the emergency preparedness committee at tpepc@takomaparkmd.gov or 301-891-7126.
Five Questions for Mike Tidwell, Founder & Director, Chesapeake Climate Action Network

Mike Tidwell has lived in Takoma Park for 32 years. He is a parent of twins, Bethesda, their “come-and-go son” Sasha, who is a student at University of Maryland, and cat Macy Gray reside on upper Willow Avenue in the PEN neighborhood. “It’s basically downtown Takoma Park,” Tidwell notes. “Twenty years ago, Roscoe the rooster used to spend a lot of time in my back yard.”

What was his main motivation for becoming an advocate for climate change issues? “A relentless, unshakable concern for justice.”

Sidwell lives in constant fear that his teenage son will have a fraction of the opportunities in his lifetime that he has had in his due to climate change. “I was also a Peace Corps Volunteer in the Congo in my 20s. I lived with barefoot, car-free people who contributed nothing to climate change but who are already being made hungry by drought, strange floods, and ecological upheaval. He explains, “All this when the promise of a carbon-free world is totally within our grasp through affordable wind power and solar and electric cars.”

Through his work with Chesapeake Climate Action Network, Tidwell has learned “that people will take action – bold action – if you simply ask them and you have good plan.” He recalls several instances where his powers of persuasion were in full effect. “I persuaded hundreds of people to go peacefully to jail with me over the Keystone XL pipeline. I’ve gotten countless people to play hookey from work to lobby for solar and wind power legislation in Annapolis.”

“I’ve got thousands of people over the years to jump into the Potomac River in January to raise money and awareness about the need to, “Keep winter cold!” More people than ever have joined the movements.”

“If I had a magic wand for a day, I would take a wrecking ball to the ugly 10-story high-rise office building on Carroll Avenue (I work on the 7th floor!). Then I would turn the lot into a Little League baseball park with a veggie hot dog stand.”

SANCTUARY CITY

The sanctuary city movement in the Interior of the United States, withholds federal funding from cities that offer sanctuary to illegal immigrants.

According to Takoma Park Mayor Kate Stewart, the city stands to lose $90,000 in such federal funds, but Takoma Park has no intention of revoking its ordinance. “We’re already fundraising,” said Steward. “We’ll make up that money [in other ways].”

At the teach-in, however, Maryland State Delegate Ana Sol Gutierrez warned that “that bill is mild compared to what we are going to see moving forward. It’s coming, and it’s coming very soon.”

The crowd filled the auditorium and several overflow rooms where the speakers and panel were live streamed on television screens, and some even sat on the floor in the aisles to listen as poems were recited, music was played and a brief history of Takoma’s sanctuary ordinance was given.

“When we organized together last time, it was about politics,” said community activist Tebahun Assfela while explaining one of the amendments made to the ordinance in 2007. “This time it is about humanity.”

Lilo Gonzalez led the assembled crowd in several songs in both English and Spanish. “As a former refugee from El Salvador, it is my duty to be here,” Gonzalez said. With this new administration, it’s time to come be a part of this movement and work hard to make this country a country for everybody.”

Mayor Kate Stewart moderated a panel discussion with City Manager Suzanne Ludlow, Police Chief Alan Goldberg; Montgomery County Councilmember Marc Elrich; Gustavo Torres, Executive Director, CASA de Maryland and Denyse Sabagh Esq., a Partner with Duane Morris.

Katie Burn was one of the audience members and explained that her stake in the matter was personal. “My husband is an immigrant,” Burn said. “This is near and dear to us.”

President Trump’s executive order says that “it is the policy of the executive branch to ensure, to the fullest extent of the law, that a State, or a political subdivision of a State, shall comply” and cooperate with Immigration and Customs Enforcement.

But at the teach-in, city leaders and activists alike from Takoma Park made clear that they weren’t changing the ordinance or their operating procedures. “We have no interest or authority in the deportation of immigrants,” Goldberg said in a statement. “The mission and commitment of the Takoma Park Police Department is the safety and welfare of all our residents.”

The sentiment expressed by the hundreds of residents that filled the community center seemed to be the same. “This is a temporary setback,” Assfela said. “Love will win.”

The season is right to plant trees, and in Takoma Park that means residents may help replenish the aging tree canopy in the city. The city offers added incentive by reducing the cost of the first tree purchased by $100 (unless it is a replacement tree required as part of a Tree Removal Permit). That means residents can add a $195 tree to their yards for just $95 plus 6 percent sales tax, a total of $105.70. Add a second tree and the bill is still
