Public Space in Takoma Park

By Jamee Ernst

What is public space?

Public space refers to spaces and publicly owned properties that are open and accessible to all people. The most successful public spaces are those that attract diverse groups of people and provide opportunities for socializing, leisure activities, and both planned and unplanned interactions. Public spaces can also provide opportunities for play and recreation. Healthy public spaces help create vibrant, unique cities, and it is important that they are fostered and maintained.

Public Space in Takoma Park: An Overview

Takoma Park is fortunate to have a large number of public spaces. These are owned by the public, and both planned and unplanned interactions. Public spaces can also provide opportunities for play and recreation. Healthy public spaces help create vibrant, unique cities, and it is important that they are fostered and maintained.

Public Works Snow Removal Plan

Public Works staffers are preparing to work hard to clear whatever snow falls on Takoma Park’s 34 miles of city-maintained roads, as well as walkways and sidewalks around city parks and public buildings. City staffs track potential storms as they occur.
On Oct. 23, 2019, the City Council approved a series of contracts and purchases. Ordinance 2019-35 authorized purchase of two Ford F-250 Pickup Trucks from Academy Ford at a total cost of $72,512. Ordinance 2019-36 authorized purchase of one F350 Dump Truck from Academy Ford for $76,610. Ordinance 2019-37 authorized purchase of a Chevy Bolt from Sport Chevrolet for $32,804. These vehicles replace all existing City fleet vehicles. Ordinance 2019-38 authorized purchase of replacement combi Ozone, DCP and CDW-G computers from Dell and $57,627 and renewal of Adobe Creative Cloud licenses for $20,440. An indefinite quantities contract for street, sidewalk, and stormwater improvements was awarded to D&B Construction by Ordinance 2019-39. Ordinance 2019-40 approved a second indefinite quantities contract award to N2I Construction Corporation. Ordinance 2019-41 authorized execution of a contract for the photo speed enforcement program with Compliant State and Local Solutions. The contract will result in the installation of new replacement cameras in the City and a lower monthly per camera per month cost. Also on Oct. 23, the City Council authorized the City Manager to execute a Memorandum of Understanding with the Montgomery County Board of Elections. The agreement will enable City elections to be conducted, in separate spaces, at each of the five Takoma Park voting places during presidential and gubernatorial general elections. Resolution 2019-49 endorsed use of CDBG funding, estimated to be $91,000 for FY 2021, for eligible streetcape and ADA improvements. Ordinance 2019-42 was approved on Oct. 30, 2019. The ordinance authorized payments to the Takoma Park Independence Day Committee for reimbursable expenditures of $18,745 and to the Takoma Park Folk Festival for reimbursable expenditures up to $17,500.

Right of Way as Public Space

Parks, plazas, and other greenspace are most commonly considered to be public spaces, but the City's street network, public parking spaces, and other public rights of way are also an important part of Takoma Park's overall public space. A public right of way is an easement for public travel or a path of transportation that can be used by all members of the public. In Takoma Park, public right of way accounts for 28% of the City’s total land area. This provides opportunities for streets to be treated as a community asset rather than just a means for automobile transportation and storage.

Aside from streets, City right of way also includes sidewalks, gardens, neighborhood paths, public art installations, the Met Branch trail, and medians. These are often overlooked, but represent important examples of Takoma Park’s public space network. Examples of ways that streets and parking spaces can be used as community building spaces include the Takoma Park and Takoma/Langley Crossroads Farmers’ Markets, outdoor cafe seating in parking spaces, and more recently DC’s Open Streets event.

Public Space Management Plan

As a dense, urban municipality, there are fewer opportunities for the City to acquire additional land for public space, highlighting the need to effectively manage and maintain existing public space. In the past two decades the City has supported or adapted multiple transportation, land-use, and environmental sustainability plans. These plans generally include recommendations for public parks, public right of way, and other facilities. These factors encourage a broader, coordinated planning effort which addresses public space in the City as a whole with coordinated goals and priorities.

The City is developing a Public Space Management Plan to provide a vision, goals, and guidance for the way that public space will be used, maintained, and acquired in Takoma Park. The plan will provide a framework for developing policies and programs to accomplish set goals for public space and prioritize improvements. The plan will look at the distribution of public space around the City, accessibility, bicycle and pedestrian connectivity, social and racial equity considerations, and environmental health and sustainability. Public space should be equitably distributed throughout the City and serve the diverse needs of City residents. This means providing opportunities for both active and passive recreation as well as social gathering.

Scope of Work and Timeline

A scope of work was presented to Council in winter 2018. Staff will seek input from residents and Council consideration on draft goals for the Public Space Management Plan in spring 2020. For updates, visit takomaparkmd.gov/initiatives/project-directory/public-space-management-plan.

SNOW REMOVAL

The City’s garden staff clears public sidewalks at City public parks and public buildings during daylight hours, with assistance as needed from temporary laborers. Public Works encourages businesses and residents to do their part to clear snow and ice from the sidewalks adjoining their property.

Takoma Park’s winter weather response plan divides the city into five snow removal zones, each with an assigned response vehicle. Within each zone, ‘primary streets’ are those with the most traffic, and those that connect neighborhoods.

“Secondary streets” are shorter, with few houses, and include courts, alleys and dead ends. City crew first clear primary streets then proceed to secondary streets. The City’s goal is to create two travelable lanes on each primary street within a 12-hour shift, if the snow fall is six inches or less. If the snow fall is six inches or more, the expectation is to have one travelable lane over a 12-hour period. Snow removal equipment remains in service around the clock until all the roads are cleared. To see a map of snow removal routes, go to www.takomaparkmd.gov/snow.

Often, when severe weather is on the way, the city begins anti-icing procedures by applying a salt/sand mixture or liquid de-icing chemicals to the street surface. Plowing begins once snowfall has accumulated to one inch on the street. If the storm produces only sleet and ice, the city treats roads with sand and salt. Snow and ice response service on some streets is performed by outside agencies. The State Highway Administration is responsible for clearing Carroll Avenue, Ethan Allen Avenue, New Hampshire Avenue, Philadelphia Avenue and Piney Branch Road. Sligo Creek Parkway is a Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission roadway and snow and ice response is performed by Montgomery County. However, city plows will assist with snow removal on these streets in the course of their work to clear city streets.

The Public Works Department has developed a few helpful tips for residents to follow during a snow event.

Stay connected. Conditions leading to a declared snow emergency include the expectation of a significant quantity of snow or an ice event. The city manager may declare a snow emergency and will announce the status through Takoma Park Alert, local media, and on the City’s website, Facebook and Twitter.

Be aware. The following restrictions go into effect during declared snow emergencies:

- Residents are strongly encouraged to park vehicles in their driveways whenever possible. Fewer cars on the street allow city plows to move more quickly and safely clear the roads.
- If you must park on the street, make sure to park your car as close to the curb as possible and maintain a distance of at least 25 feet from an intersection.

Clear sidewalks. Residents are responsible for clearing the public sidewalks adjacent to their properties.

City of Takoma Park and LEDC host free first-time homebuyer program workshop

On Saturday, November 9, the City’s Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCA) and Latino Economic Development Center (LEDC) held a HUD Certified First-Time Homebuyer Workshop. This free workshop is held each year in May and November. Nearly 25 prospective first-time homebuyers learned how to successfully navigate each step of the home-buying process.

LEDC invited a host of speakers, including a loan officer, real estate agent, insurance agent, and home inspector to provide a walk-through of the homeownership process. LEDC’s Homeownership Department is a HUD-certified housing counseling agency serving Washington, DC and Maryland. Participants were given a certificate of completion that provides them with access to federal, state, county, and local first-time homebuyer programs that help with closing costs, lower interest rates, and down payment assistance.

City of Takoma Park’s Grant Coordinator Jennifer Hale shared information about the City’s Home Stretch Down Payment Assistance Program that provides first-time homebuyers, who want to make the City of Takoma Park their home, with a forgivable loan in the amount of $10,000. There was also a presentation by a recent recipient of the down payment assistance program. Information about the Home Stretch program is available on the City’s website.

Accessory Dwelling Units: New rules take effect December 31, 2019

The new, less-restrictive rules governing approval of Accessory Dwelling Units (ADUs) in Montgomery County take effect December 31, 2019.

ADUs are basement apartments, garage conversions, or backyard cottages on lots zoned for single-family homes. Because the addition of an ADU changes the use of the single-family zoned lot, Montgomery County has to approve the addition. Once the unit is approved by the county, the City of Takoma Park oversees the rental housing licensing process.

The new rules make the process much easier for Takoma Park homeowners. Your proposed ADU in Takoma Park will not have any parking space requirements nor will it need to be 300 feet from the next closest ADU, as was the case in the past. The new rules are designed to expand housing options for tenants, offer homeowners the opportunity to generate additional revenue, and encourage homeowners with unlicensed ADUs to license their units.

If you have an accessory apartment ready for licensing or are you considering the possibilities, your first stop is with Montgomery County’s Department of Housing and Community Affairs (DHCA). DHCA administers the licensing process, which includes verifying proof of residency of the owner(s), reviewing drawings of the ADU layout, and verifying the state-issued certificate that confirms that the property has passed an inspection for lead risk. Your proposed ADU will also need to be inspected for compliance with health, safety and property maintenance codes. Full details about this process can be found on the county’s website at www.montgomerycountymd.gov/DHCA/housing/licensing/accessory_apartment.html.

After the county issues the permit for your ADU, you must obtain a rental housing license from the City of Takoma Park. Additional information about the rental licensing program can be found on the City’s website at takomaparkmd.gov/government/housing-and-community-development/rental-housing/rental-housing-licensing. If you have questions feel free to contact the Department of Housing and Community Development in person at 7500 Maple Avenue, 3rd Floor, by email housing@takomaparkmd.gov, or by telephone at 301-891-7119. As a reminder, ADUs still cannot be used as short-term rentals or be on the same property where another rental unit exists.

Local Amnesty International chapter writes letters to make a difference

By Katie Manganelli

Doing something as simple as writing a letter could make a life-changing impact for victims of human rights abuses across the world.

The Takoma Park/Silver Spring chapter of Amnesty International, a human rights advocacy group, is holding a meeting to support the Write for Rights event on December 7 at Mark’s Kitchen (7006 Carrol Avenue) from 3–5 p.m.

Amnesty International is a human rights organization that seeks a world where all people adhere to the universal declaration of human rights set by the United Nations according to Randall Marks, co-founder and co-coordinator of Takoma Park/Silver Spring Maryland Amnesty International Local Group 297.

Write for Rights is the world’s biggest human rights event according to the Amnesty International website (www.amnesty.org/en/get-involved/write-for-rights).

“Our messages help convince government officials to release people imprisoned for expressing their opinion (called ‘prisoners of conscience’ by Amnesty), support human rights defenders, stop torture, commute death sentences, and end other human rights abuses,” says Amnesty International’s website (https://write.amnestyusa.org/what-is-write-for-rights).

This year’s Write for Rights is focused on youthful activists imprisoned or abused for making their opinions heard according to Marks. Participants gather to write letters to victims of human rights abuses worldwide, and the letters make a difference.

“We write directly to prisoners or to organizations that are connected to prisoners, and we call those ‘solidarity letters’ to say ‘the world cares about you.’ And there’s a fringe benefit, which is if they’re in prison and they start getting a lot of mail, guards tend to treat the prisoners better because they know people are watching,” Marks said.

“Another thing we do is we write to the governments that are imprisoning the prisoners and seek their release,” he continued. “What we’ve found in the past is that some of the people that we write for do, in fact, get out of prison.”

There is no membership necessary to participate in Write for Rights; the event is aimed at helping anyone make a difference. Amnesty International provides all materials necessary to write a letter that may make a life-changing impact for at-risk individuals across the globe.

“You don’t have to know anything about human rights to start doing human rights work,” said Marks.

“We’re hoping to engage more people in human rights work, even if it’s the first and only time they do it, it’s a valuable service to humanity.”

Takoma Park Community Center
7500 Maple Avenue
Free Event

Why shop for holiday gifts in a mall or on Amazon when you can support local artists and our creative community?

The 14th Annual Takoma Park Holiday Art Sale makes shopping local easy and affordable with more than 30 local artists gathered at the Takoma Park Community Center on Dec. 7 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Unlike many art sales, there is no admission fee, and you will find a broad array of creative gifts for your friends and family (and yourself!), including paintings, pottery, photography, handmade clothes, jewelry, toys, and more.

The Holiday Art Sale has become a favorite tradition in Takoma Park that has expanded into a juried event featuring talented vendors from across the D.C. area, said photographer Rob Rudick, who started the art sale 14 years ago with Sara Daines, former director of the City’s Housing and Community Development Department.

“Last year was our best art sale ever, and I expect this year to keep up that trend,” Rudick said. “I love getting all of these great artists together. It’s really exciting when everyone is in the community center and their work is up for everyone to see. The City’s commitment to organize the art sale every year shows that the arts are an important part of daily life in Takoma Park.”

The City’s Arts and Humanities Commission hosts the art sale each year to support the local artist community. City staff also organize many free events throughout the year at the Takoma Park Community Center in the Takoma Park Arts cultural series, including art exhibitions, film screenings, lectures, poetry readings, concerts, dance, and theater. You can find more info about our upcoming events at www.takomaparkmd.gov/arts and sign up for the weekly Takoma Park Arts e-newsletter at bit.ly/2B5YRRu.

The Holiday Art Sale includes a diverse array of artistic mediums at affordable prices, Rudick said. “We have some popular vendors who return every year, but we also bring in new vendors, so there is always something new to see,” he said. “You can knock out your gift list early and then relax before the holidays.”

RECREATION

People, Plants and Animals: A Powerful Connection

“Can anyone tell me the last time you took a walk and experienced the sounds of nature?” That was the first question asked when we arrived at the Meadowside Nature Center in October for a visit.

For many of our Think Tank program participants, the answer was a no. Think Tank is an after school academic program the Recreation Department operates at Hampshire Tower Apartments. In this program, our participants are able to get help with homework, academic support, mentoring, and complete art projects. When the weather is nice, we try to opt for holding the program outdoors, but adjacent to the playground one can still hear the faint hum of the New Hampshire Avenue traffic. So, when Amy, one of the participants, asked, “Are we going to see a polar bear?” nobody found it to be a bizarre question.

The untouched landscape of Meadowside Nature Center is beautiful, with more than eight miles of nature trails. As we began our nature walk, the kids buzzed about with excitement regarding the chances of seeing all sorts of creatures in their natural habitat. Our guide could sense the excitement, and told us, “The best way to view animals is by remaining quiet, taking in the sounds, the scents, and the sights. Intentionally observe your surroundings because the animals will only show themselves if they don’t feel threatened.” The students became silent and hyper-focused for the experience. For the second time today, Ms. Bridget Wood had captivated their attention with the mention of nature.

After the nature walk, the group headed to the Nature Center to meet some of the animals housed at Meadowside. All the kids gathered closely, as Ms. Wood headed towards the area where the Bald Eagle and other animals are housed. Here the youth witnessed the resident owls, hawks, snake and American bald eagle eating their daily meals. They even received the opportunity to play with a bunny and a turtle.

Before departing a final circle was held, and everyone said the things they enjoyed the most. When we got around to Amy her response was, “My favorite thing is that we are coming back in the spring.”

This is just one of the many enriching programs the Recreation Department offers. For a complete list of upcoming activities, check out the Winter City Guide in this month’s newsletter.

People, Plants and Animals: A Powerful Connection

“Can anyone tell me the last time you took a walk and experienced the sounds of nature?” That was the first question asked when we arrived at the Meadowside Nature Center in October for a visit.

For many of our Think Tank program participants, the answer was a no. Think Tank is an after school academic program the Recreation Department operates at Hampshire Tower Apartments. In this program, our participants are able to get help with homework, academic support, mentoring, and complete art projects. When the weather is nice, we try to opt for holding the program outdoors, but adjacent to the playground one can still hear the faint hum of the New Hampshire Avenue traffic. So, when Amy, one of the participants, asked, “Are we going to see a polar bear?” nobody found it to be a bizarre question.

The untouched landscape of Meadowside Nature Center is beautiful, with more than eight miles of nature trails. As we began our nature walk, the kids buzzed about with excitement regarding the chances of seeing all sorts of creatures in their natural habitat. Our guide could sense the excitement, and told us, “The best way to view animals is by remaining quiet, taking in the sounds, the scents, and the sights. Intentionally observe your surroundings because the animals will only show themselves if they don’t feel threatened.” The students became silent and hyper-focused for the experience. Library Resources for Elders

By Jill Raymond

Library patrons of all ages have noticed a special display focused on the needs, concerns, and interests of elders. Overall, the collection has always offered a range of sources that speak to the issues faced by those in their later years, which can be useful for seniors, caregivers, family members, specialists and concerned others. These include:

- books addressing seniors’ needs as they learn the use of new technology, including smartphones, computers, and social media
- nonfiction sources helping people make their way through the labyrinths of caregiving, Medicare, Social Security, and financial planning for one’s later years, as well as titles in our magazine section like AARP Magazine and AARP Bulletin
- memoirs and contemplations by thoughtful writers and thinkers, who have turned their insights to the vicissitudes of aging, some examples: Gloria Steinem’s Daring Sixty and Seventy, May Sarton’s collection Coming into Eighty, and Jane Fonda’s Prime Time, and Paul Newman’s old pal A. E. Hotchner’s O. J. in the Morning, G & T (gin and tonic) at Night: Spirited

• works focusing on issues that impact elders in a unique or significant way: medical, legal, financial, interpersonal, or spiritual
Our special book display, which sits in front of the circulation desk, features works that speak directly to older individuals who want to discover, take more control over, or just come to grips with the possibilities open to them in this life stage. They include discussions of love in later life, affordable/alternative housing options, brain health, gardening, travel, depression, new careers, and much more, with titles such as Ageproof. Living Longer Without Running Out of Money or Breaking a Hip; 1 Ching for Wise Living and Aging: How to Consciously Find Inspiration and Purpose in the Second Half of Life; With a Little Help from Our Friends: Creating Community as We Grow Older.

The library also invests in numerous online sources that patrons can access from the comfort of their home computer, or here in our computer center, where help is always available from the indefatigable Phil Shapiro. These offer thousands of full-text reference and magazine titles, and interactive programs through...

Friends Book Group and the Graphic Novel!

By Tim Rahn

The graphic novel, Jimmy Corrigan: The Smartest Kid on Earth by Chris Ware, will be discussed by Tim Rahn and Dave Burbank on Wednesday, January 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Hydrangea Room of the Takoma Park Community Center.

Jimmy Corrigan was first published in 2000. Jimmy Corrigan critics have considered it a classic of the graphic book genre. Ware blends his simple but detailed drawings with complex layouts and typography into a narrative as mundane and unique as the Middle America that it depicts.

In Jimmy Corrigan, we follow the seemingly uneventful lives of four generations of the Corrigan’s from a visit to the Columbian Exposition of 1893 to life in a contemporary office cubicle. The central theme of the novel is paternal abandonment, which Ware himself experienced, and the dysfunction it leaves in its wake.

Early in the novel we learn that the titular Jimmy Corrigan, single and aged beyond his 38 years, was abandoned by his father. He now lives with his overbearing mother in Chicago shuffling to and from an office job. Out with his overbearing mother in Chicago out... from all sorts of various cultural back-grounds selling handmade goods and art-isan crafts from local businesses. There will also be live holiday music from the all-female Capital Accord Chorus, and Mexican hot chocolate and street corn from Elericia DMV.

“Everyone should bring their sweet tooths,” Gunnoud says. FILOS Bakery will bring its combination of Mexican and German baked goods and will be selling cookies and the sweet German bread stollen.

The market will be open to all with something for adults and children.

“It's definitely a family-friendly event,” says Gunnoud. “We even managed to get Santa, who will greet visitors and fami-lies.” For more information on the Cross-roads Holiday Market, visit takomalangley.org/holiday-market.

reveals an even more heartbreaking aban-donment in an earlier generation. “While so many similar projects are lit-tle more than strings of striking images, Jimmy Corrigan forces you to pause, flick back a few pages and read again, rewarding you with another insight, another overdue connection,” wrote Phil Daoust in The Guardian. “It is a rare and uplifting example of an artistic vision pushed to the limits.”

Tim Rahn organizes and facilitates the Friends Bi-monthly Book Club, and Dave Burbank is the Library’s graphic novel expert. All are welcome to attend the Friends book discussions!

SNOw REMOVAL

jacent to your property. When possible, keep sidewalks clear of snow and ice by regularly shoveling accumulated snow during and after a snow event. Please DO NOT shovel large amounts of snow into the street when clearing your driveway, lead walk or sidewalk. The best place to pile snow is on the lawn or grassy areas. Piles of snow shoveled out into the street can cause problems for passing vehicles. Be a good neighbor and help others in need. Reach out and ask neighbors if they need assistance with keeping their side-walk clear. Many residents are physically unable to shovel snow and ice and are hesitant to request help from neighbors or friends. Your thoughtfulness can make a big difference to someone who might other-wise be unable to cope.

Safety tips for Christmas & New Year’s

• Before placing the tree in the stand, cut one to two inches from the base of the tree.
• Make sure the tree is at least three feet away from any heat source.
• Add water in the tree stand, and be sure to check the water level daily.
• When the tree starts losing the needles or drying out, it’s time to take it down and move it outside away from the house until pickup time.
• Have working smoke alarms on all levels of the home, including occupied bedrooms; test them monthly.
• Create a family fire escape plan and practice it on a monthly basis.

TPVFD Acting Fire Chief

At the TPVFD Board of Directors meeting, Captain Richard “Rusty” Wiley was appointed Acting Fire Chief due to the retirement of Fire Chief Thomas Musgrove, effective Nov. 8, 2019. Congratulations!

Making Sure These Are Happy Holidays…and Year-Round Safety

By Claudine Schwebler, co-chair, Emergency Preparedness Committee

Once again, we gather with friends and family. Some of us will travel out of the area; others will stay here as guests or hosts. We’ll be doing holiday shopping… and so will the scammers, pickpockets, and burglars.

Living in Takoma Park is special. We get three free holiday safety gifts from the Takoma Park Police Department that are good all year.

• Gift #1, Vacant House Check Program: If you are away 4–30 days, contact the Takoma Park Police, who will do a daily house check to make sure no one has tampered with windows, doors, set a ladder against an outside wall, etc. If someone is picking up your mail or newspapers, let the police department know.

Contact the TPPD in advance at 301-270-1100.

• Gift #2, Watch Your Car Program: Want to ensure that your car is only used by those you authorize and is not on the road between 1 a.m. and 5 a.m.? Then, register your car(s) with the TPPD. You will receive a sticker to post on the rear windshield. If the car is away from your home between these hours, police (statewide) can 1) stop the car and 2) verify the driver is the owner or an authorized user. Again, contact TPPD at 301-270-1100.

• Gift #3, CARE Program: Registered residents call the department each day between 12 p.m. and 5 p.m. If they don’t call, they will be called by the police. If there is no answer, a patrol officer will be sent to check on their welfare.

This is also high-touch, online shopping season… for hackers and electronic thieves! To prevent electronic “shopping” by holiday hackers, be prepared and stay aware by using the 3D system:

1. Deter: Don’t click on unsolicited links; don’t give out personal information, especially social security numbers; update virus/malware protection; set the browser and email spam/junk files to medium/high; check financial receipts regularly.

2. Detect: Avoid offers that seem too good and want a quick response; check for financial statements with strange charges; be aware of calls, letters, or emails about purchases you didn’t make.

3. Defend: Contact the fraud/security department of your credit card company, even if you only suspect fraudulent activity; you may need to set a fraud alert, get a new card and/or file a police report.

*Thanks to the Montgomery County Office of Consumer Protection

More tips:

• Use a credit card instead of a debit card. There are more protections with credit cards, and the money isn’t instantly taken from your bank account.

• Use one credit card for onsite shopping only and a different one for online shopping. In case of a credit breach or abuse of your online card, you would still have the onsite card. This also gives you an easy way to track your online purchases on one statement.

Comments or questions, contact us at tpepc@takomaparkmd.gov or 301–891–7126; Listen to BestPrepared on WOWD/Talk of Takoma at 1 p.m. on the first Sunday of the month.
One Man, Many Causes: Jay Keller’s Activism in Takoma Park

By Taylor Dibbert

Jay Keller was this year’s Azalea Award winner in the Tak-tivist category. He grew up in Binghamton, New York. Both his parents were very involved in their community, this clearly had a big influence on him. Keller, his sister and his brother grew up with a sincere appreciation for civic engagement. “Community service and being involved is a very important aspect of what I grew up with,” he said.

Keller attended the College of Wooster in Ohio. He graduated in 1979 with a bachelor’s degree in history. During his junior year in college, he did an internship at Common Cause in Washington, D.C. Common Cause works on issues pertaining to campaign finance reform and good governance. After he earned his degree, he spent a year teaching English in Taiwan, which is how he met his wife. (She too was teaching English in Taiwan.) Keller then returned to Washington, D.C. and worked for Common Cause again, he stayed with the organization for five years. He also worked for other organizations, including Population Connection and First Voice International.

Keller currently serves at the director of outreach and operations at Interfaith Alliance; he’s been working there for nearly 13 years. “We celebrate religious freedom by championing individual rights, promoting policies that protect both religion and democracy, and uniting diverse voices to challenge extremism,” he said.

He has resided in Takoma Park for 31 years and has two adult sons. Keller is involved in all kinds of initiatives and projects. For the past three decades, he’s accomplished a lot and really contributed to the Takoma Park community. “One of the great things about Takoma Park is that there’s a lot of stuff you can get involved in, and it isn’t like a chore.” For example, Keller said that the Recreation Committee is comprised of a “great group of people.” Elaborating, he says “it’s just fun” and “very, very social.”

“Pick whatever you want to get involved in … and look for stuff that’s fun. You’ll get to meet people. You’ll get to learn about new neighbors,” he said. “There’s a lot of folks who are inspirational and encouraging of participation.”

In speaking about the challenges of community participation, Keller mentions that it can take time to implement projects or ideas. Coalitions and broader support may be needed. A project might have budgetary implications or constraints. He said that it’s important to not let the perfect be the enemy of the good. “Everything is debated in Takoma Park,” Keller said with a smile. “That’s a great thing, but sometimes can be a little frustrating for people.”

Keller is quite proud of helping to get the Winter Basketball League restarted. “It’s a huge success,” he said. Interestingly, the Recreation Committee won an Azalea Award for this work in 2009. He was chair of the committee at that time as well.

Keller cherishes Takoma Park’s diversity and strives to consistently focus on inclusion and ensuring that a range of voices are being heard. “Trying to figure out how we do a better job in Takoma Park of getting input from the diverse community that we have … not just the homeowners, but the renters, that’s a big challenge.”

Keller noted that this sort of challenge isn’t unique to Takoma Park. “What may be unique to Takoma Park is that we’re really thinking about it [inclusion] and trying to do something about it,” he said.

When asked about the best parts about living in Takoma Park, Keller immediately said “the people.” He also mentioned the opportunities to get involved. “If somebody says ‘I don’t know how to get involved in Takoma Park,’ they’re just not looking hard enough.”

There are tons of committees. There are tons of ways to get involved. There’s a lot of fun stuff. There’s art stuff if you want to be involved in something like that … there’s just tons of opportunities here.”

Keller also likes that the City Council is accessible and that council members are available to speak on the phone or meet with constituents. His council member is Kacy Kostiuk. He said Kostiuk brings “a great energy to the council and is very approachable.”

While Keller is deeply committed to community engagement and participation, he’s also humble about all that he’s done. Regarding his Azalea Award, he said “it’s nice to be recognized for this, but it’s so much a group effort.”
